

The Benefits of being a DeckSeal Franchisee

The positives for investing in an established franchise business can be endless. Effective franchises have excellent success rates – especially in their early years as opposed to stand alone start ups that often fold within the first couple of years.

For someone prepared to put in the hard work and who is keen on using their handy skills but has limited business knowledge, a DeckSeal franchise is the perfect option for you!

Brian Burgess, Director says, ‘DeckSeal is real people operating a real business who are totally committed to seeing the business bring success to our Franchisee investors. We’ve done all the hard work and aim to equip all our Franchisees with the skills and support to see them succeed at the business.’

‘We’ve loved building the DeckSeal business from the ground up. Going through the franchising process helped us to take it to the next level and helped us really refine our systems and processes – this has ensured we are 100% market ready for franchisees.’

We’ve outlined some of the key differences between being a DeckSeal Franchisee and going it alone
