ABOUT US

Elm Cleaning is a domestic cleaning company with many years' experience in the demanding world of residential cleaning within the Melbourne district, inner south-eastern and bayside suburbs of Victoria. We supply cleaning services to a wide variety of clientele requiring daily, weekly, fortnightly, tri-weekly and one off services. We are an exceptional cleaning company and are proud of our exemplary achievement in a very competitive market.

Our company was established in 2011 by Marjan Karakuyu with an additional 4 year prior experience within the industry, and has grown at an impressive rate. Our point of difference is that we are committed to providing our clients with the highest quality cleaning services available in the market, with the best price possible.

All management within our company has extensive experience in delivering the high quality services, currently working hands-on in the field supervising cleaning teams. This gives them direct experience in the companies cleaning procedures, in addition to excellent working relationships with other team members.

Elm Cleaning is keen to offer a tailored and realistic solution to the overall cleaning needs of our clients. This solution incorporates ensuring absolute compliance to OH&S procedures, guaranteeing quality of service and maintaining efficient business practices.

First and foremost, we believe in partnering with the right people for the job, and as such will ensure all our franchisees are trained to become not only cleaning professionals but also business owners to ensure the highest level of cleaning quality is delivered. Furthermore, it will be our commitment to ensure that each member of our team has completed all appropriate onsite inductions and are fully aware of what measures need to be taken in order to meet all OH&S policies and procedures.

We aim to use this solution of superior staff, greater training and OH&S adherence requirements, as well as the bundling of cleaning services in order to offer a complete cleaning and maintenance solution to our clients.
